The contest was a most remarkable one both from the standpoint of determination and game-There was not a moment from first gong to the sponge that the Gardner put up one of the cleverest and aggressive fights ever seen in a local ring. He displayed the finest of generalship and was cool and determined in every mix. His long reach enabled him to jab Carter in the face whenever he chose and his right arm jolts were especially effective. He sim-ply fought Carter down. The score reveals the fact that they made eight succulent errors, half of them contributed by the second base-man. In batting they had all the best of it and seemed to have no hesitancy in ironing out Mister Meredith's wrinkles. Ripley pitched winning ball and would have made the game very close but for his lack of support.

The locals more than redeemed themselves for the nonsense indulged in the day before and played the game for all there was in it from start to finish They were alive on bases, fielded well and made all the hits they needed. McCausland made a triple and Meredith bumped out a double and triple, Taylor and Williams each got away with doubles.

Following is the score in detail:

FOR BETTER PRICES.

Electrical Houses May Form a Combine for Mutual Benefit.

In order to secure better prices for electrical fixtures and better pay for putting them in, the houses dealing in that kind of merchandise and labor are seriously considering forming a com-bine, establishing a fixed scale of prices and doing away with present competiand doing away with present competi-tion. There would be no consolidation of the houses, but the effort would be to make it mutually beneficial to all of them. This agitation is said to be the result of the slashing of prices by all of the dealers, some of them, it is said, actually losing money just to handle a tob that a competitor wanted. It is job that a competitor wanted. It is said that wiring has been done here for as low as 45 cents an opening, while the standard price throughout the country is $1.25, and, on the coast, as high as $1.75 is charged. This has de-moralized the electrical trade, which has been felt the most keenly by the

It is not known what the result of the agitation will be, but it is feared that business rivalry and jealousy will prevent its consummation. At least so some of the prominent dealers think. smaller firms.

CELEBRATION ON LABOR DAY

SOME VERY GOOD FLOATS.

Railroad Machinists to Have Some Complicated Machinery in Motion -Go to Lagoon in Afternoon.

As Labor day approaches, the prospects for a fine celebration and a big time for those who earn their bread by the skill of their hands get brighter and brighter. It now looks as though there will be 3,000 men in line in the parade of Monday morning; and at the Lagoon in the afternoon, where the wage workers are to officially gather, it is expected that there will be one of the very largest crowds of the

In the parade, every labor center in the state of Utah, as well as every la-bor organization, will be represented, and there will be, in addition, a large delegation down from Pocatello. The floats, it is said, will be great surprises to the people, and the railroad machin-ists promise a fine display of complicated machinery in motion. Richard Baker, the marshal of the day, is work-ing hard to make the parade a big success, and with the hearty co-opera-tion of all of the working men in the state, he ought to succeed.

The executive committee, which is to have charge of the celebration of the day, is about completed, there re-maining but two names more to go on The idea is to have every organization represented with one member on this committee, and two of the organizations have not yet chosen their men.
